

Financial Interest or Relationship Disclosures

As the ACCME accredited provider for the Vitreoretinal Practice Management Issues Seminar 2010, the American Society of Retina Specialists requires all Program Committee members to disclose any commercial financial interests prior to the development of educational content. A process of resolution of conflict of interest is used for those committee members who do have financial interests related to the development of the content. ACCME rules and the process followed by the ASRS prevent any program committee member failing to provide his/her disclosure from participating in development of educational content.

As the ACCME accredited provider, the American Society of Retina Specialists has determined that financial interest should not restrict scientific, clinical or non-clinical presentation or publication, provided that appropriate disclosure of such interest is made. As an accredited provider, we intend to ensure balance, independence, objectivity, and scientific rigor in all activities. All presenters are expected to disclose to the activity audience any significant financial interest or other relationship with the manufacturer(s) of any commercial product(s) and/or provider(s) of commercial services discussed in an educational presentation.

Note: All presenters were required to submit a financial disclosure statement upon submission of their presentation. Any presenters not listed as having financial relationships or interest have stated to the ASRS that no financial interest exists.
