

ASRS

American Society of
Retina Specialists

Daniel Maher, CPC

Daniel Maher, currently a Director of Payor Strategy and Population Health for Retina Consultants of America, has over a decade of leadership experience in revenue cycle management and payor contracting. Daniel is known for his ability to significantly improve key performance indicator benchmarks and EBITDA through his operational strategies and execution. Daniel joined Retina Consultants of America following his tenure as Director of Revenue Cycle for Colorado Retina Associates. Prior to working in retina, Daniel worked with smaller private practices to bring billing back in-house. Daniel then led a national, multi-specialty billing company before moving into academic medicine, managing the professional-fee revenue of seven departments within the University of Colorado Hospital, one of which was ophthalmology. A proud former New Yorker, Daniel now resides in Denver, CO, with his husband and three dogs.