

Geeta Lalwani, MD

Geeta Lalwani, MD, is a retina specialist and founder of Rocky Mountain Retina Associates in Boulder, CO. She earned her Bachelor of Arts from Smith College with a dual degree in Chemistry and Japanese Studies. She completed her medical degree from the MCP-Hahnemann School of Medicine, Drexel University, and her ophthalmology residency at Case Western University. She received her medical and surgical vitreoretinal training at the Bascom Palmer Eye Institute, where she joined the faculty. She has published numerous peer reviewed articles, mainly focused on age-related macular degeneration and diabetic retinopathy. After several years, she returned to her hometown of Boulder, CO to start Rocky Mountain Retina Associates where she practices medical and surgical retina. She is a past President of the Vit-Buckle Society (VBS) as well as Secretary for the EnVision Summit. Additionally, she is a member of the American Academy of Ophthalmology (AAO), American Society of Retina Specialists (ASRS), and the prestigious Retina Society.