

Nathan Rudometkin, MD, FASRS

Nathan Rudometkin, MD, FASRS, is a retina surgeon with experience in both private practice in Southern California and a large healthcare system in north central Washington. With a strong interest in healthcare informatics, he completed the AMIA 10x10 program and played a key role as a physician lead in integrating Kaleidoscope, Epic's ophthalmology EHR module, in Washington. Passionate about the intersection of medicine and technology, he actively works to incorporate emerging innovations into clinical practice, enhancing both patient care and operational efficiency.
