

ASRS

American Society of
Retina Specialists

Jawad Qureshi, MD, MBA, FASRS

Dr. Qureshi completed his BS, MD, and MBA at Duke University. Subsequently, he traveled to Baltimore where he completed residency at the Wilmer Eye Institute at Johns Hopkins Hospital. He then returned to Duke Eye Center where he completed retina fellowship.

Since 2008, Dr. Qureshi has been in private practice. He started his own practice in January of 2011, which currently consists of seven vitreoretinal surgeons, seven offices, two surgery centers, and a research institute. Dr. Qureshi developed the practice, and every office in the practice, around the desire to carry out clinical trials and research.